Specification Sheet Models EQW-A1200D Silver bezel, silver band EQW-A1200DB Black bezel, silver band EQW-A1200DC Black bezel, metal band EQW-A1200B Black bezel, resin strap A model of the premium segment Buildings with a number of features and technologies. In addition to Multi-Band 6 technology for the reception of time calibration signals transmitted from six stations worldwide, it also features acclaimed Smart Access system The watches are the new flagship models of metal watch buildings that express emotion of motorsport, under the concept of "Speed and Intelligence". The EQW-A1200 integrates an advanced analog transmission system called "Multi-Mission Drive" developed by Casio, which independently moves more than 3 hands with technology sensor. clock automatically synchronizes time with radio towers around the world. CASIO presents four new EQW-A1200 watches, in different colors, which boast a multifunctional chronograph with compass function where the second tip hand to the north and a configuration resistant to vibrations. The timing module is enclosed in a highly vibration-resistant alpha gel, which reduces the vibrations transmitted by the shock key used for the replacement of tires. With the Smart Access Wire it is possible to adjust all the functions of watch simply and quickly, while the Tough Movement technology corrects the position of the hands in case of impact or magnetic shock. The design features a large dial at six o'clock, inserted in a multidimensional X-shape frame, for a dynamic dial with a strong visual impact. This model is equipped with a compact direction sensor, which allows a multi-function chronograph with compass function. The design of the EQW-A1200 intersects with the automotive theme "a dial the flying form of a car" from adjusted race. The housing is designed to withstand vibration and shock thanks to the special alphaGel material into which the module is immersed. It also uses a new vibration-resistant configuration developed by Casio following an R&D visit to Infiniti Red Bull Racing, where various mechanics and engineers suggested this would be very valuable to them when working on the Formula One car. The second hand points north, allowing the wearer to check his bearings at a glance, making it an ideal driving partner for active men. The solar battery ensures stable operation of all functions of the EQW-A1200. A digital compass will help you find magnetic north (indicated by a lightweight carbon fiber second hand), and a stopwatch measures elapsed time with the ability to record up to 10 laps in memory. Casio is proud to be a Team Partner of the current triple World Champions and is delighted to have been able to develop this kind of performance for the team. windows resembling a dashboard. A function for recording ten lap times, fastest lap and other functions befitting the racing world can be set intuitively with the crown switch. In addition, the joint between the case and the bands has been reinforced with a carbon pipe, all in rigorous pursuit of vibration resistance. resistance.
